THANK YOU

Dear CUREageous Friends and Supporters,

It is my pleasure to welcome you to our 7th Annual Illinois CancerCare Foundation CUREageous event!!! We are so Thankful for your support. This evening's Outrageous Party will celebrate patients and their family members, caregivers, physicians, researchers and staff who work tirelessly to battle cancer throughout central and western Illinois.

CUREageous is our major fundraiser of the year. Tonight's proceeds fund clinical research, education and patient support and services. All money raised stays local giving patients the very best cancer care possible right here in their hometown. Your partnership keeps HOPE alive!

The Foundation provided $400,000 to support the shortfall in the clinical cancer research program which accelerates the development of interventions for preventing, treating, recovering from and curing cancer. This support helped:

- Enrolled over 150 patients in more than 40 different clinical trials encompassing more than 11 different cancer types.
- Provide two research patient navigators to screen patients daily for our 12 clinical locations for clinical trial opportunities.
- Follow more than 800 patients who have participated in clinical trials prior to 2016.
- Physicians and staff to co-author a number of peer reviewed medical journal articles include the treatment of lung cancer, colorectal cancer, and lymphoma as well as assessment of patient adherence to oral chemotherapy agents and possible genetic factors to help predict which patients will develop chemo-induced neuropathy.

We continue to provide needed assistance to our patients in a number of other areas:

- Fuel cards are provided to clinical cancer trial participants who face financial barriers.
- Compression garments and therapy for cancer survivors.
- A community partnership in a comprehensive breast cancer risk assessment program and follow-up assistance for breast cancer patients.
- Imaging and echocardiograms for clinical trial participants not considered routine care by insurance companies.
- A community partnership to study the effects of Taxane on balance in breast cancer patients.
- Educational programming.
- Trust in Hope continues to provide support to patients and their families during the holidays.

Support continues for the genetic screening program for families at risk for hereditary non-polyposis colorectal cancer (HNPCC or Lynch Syndrome) as well as studies that offer targeted oral therapies to patients whose tumors have "driver mutations" found through molecular sequencing. Thanks to generous contributions to the Illinois CancerCare Foundation, eligible patients can receive financial assistance for their genetic testing and tumor sequencing when needed.

Hope. It is one of the most important therapies during a cancer diagnosis. Your participation this evening provides genuine hope and loving compassion to those forever touched by cancer. On behalf of our Board of Directors, Advisors, and Young Leaders, and our CUREageous event committee, thank you for joining us and for giving so generous.

DR KISHORE KARAMCHANDANI*Pulmonary/Sleep/Critical Care* | Unity Point Health – Methodist

Looking back over your career, what are you most proud of?

Starting and growing the current practice at Unity Point Health - Methodist.

How do you spend your time when you're not working? What do you like to do to relax?

I like to cook and love to eat. I enjoy photography and over the last 4-5 years have taken it up seriously. I love traveling.

If you had an extra four hours in the day, how would you fill that time?

I would work out for the first hour. For the next couple of hours I would cook and drink wine with Melissa and then end with playing the saxophone and doing my pen and ink drawing.

What made you choose to get involved in research?

I'm very inquisitive and frequently ask the question why. In medicine to get an answer to that question of why you have to do research.

Tell us about the best part of your work.

Sitting with the patient one-on-one and making a difference to their health and the lives.

DR JANE LIU Medical Oncology | Illinois CancerCare

Tell us about you.

I am Dr. Jane Liu, hematologist and oncologist at Illinois CancerCare.

Looking back over your career, what are you most proud of?

I am proud of the important decisions (joining Illinois CancerCare is one of them) I made over the years. I followed my heart and feel more and more fulfilled.

How do you spend your time when you're not working? What do you like to do to relax?

I like to spend time with my kids and family when I am not working. We enjoy family trips. I like to jog and write journals when I try to relax.

If you had an extra four hours in the day, how would you fill that time?

I guess that hour will be spent differently every day, like each of the 24 hours now. Probably at the end of the day, if I have some extra minutes, I would like to think about how to make tomorrow a better day, for example, looking up things I had questions on, thinking about new ideas, reaching out to people I would like to connect with, etc.

What made you choose to get involved in research?

Starting my career as a researcher made the decision obvious to join a practice with strong clinical research.

--Tell us about the best part of your work.
Combining medicine with science and technology.

DR. ANN STROINK Neurosurgery | Central Illinois Neuro Health SciencesTell us about you.

I'm a neurosurgeon, trained at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota, and have been practicing in my hometown – Bloomington, Illinois – since 1985. I returned to practice in my community realizing that neurosurgery services were unavailable locally and necessitated transfer to outlying hospitals. Time is brain. By having immediate neurosurgical expertise available, patients have enjoyed prompt emergency care which saves lives.

Looking back over your career, what are you most proud of?

Together with my neurosurgical and neurological colleagues, we established a non-profit organization – the Central Illinois Neuroscience Foundation – in 1996 for the purpose of enhancing neuro healthcare through education and research. This foundation has been the backbone for developing a strong continuing medical education program (CME) in the neurosciences that has received accreditation with commendation from the Illinois State Medical Society. This CME program also allowed us to develop residency programs in neurosurgery and neurology, greatly enhancing the joy of practicing medicine. In addition, the Foundation also has an active clinical research component which has brought cutting edge medical care to our community in the neurosciences. The Foundation brings together physicians, nurses and allied health professionals to improve patient outcomes, efficiency and access to care.

How do you spend your time when you're not working? What do you like to do to relax?

I spend time outside whether it's the care of farm animals or gardening. I find this an enormous source of peace and time for creative thinking.

If you had an extra four hours in the day, how would you fill that time?

I would expand on the above.

What made you choose to get involved in research?

First and foremost, to improve patient care. Secondly, stroke remains a devastating illness. When I first started my career, there was nothing we could offer these patients. The potential for improving outcomes seemed out of reach. Focusing research protocols and benchwork on neuroprotection, early intervention, and novel treatment strategies drove community excitement that stroke could be conquered. These research activities in turn have made a meaningful and significant difference in the lives of so many patients.

Tell us about the best part of your work.

The life long experience of perfecting surgical technique and now training the next generation of neurosurgeons.
